Pythians Hold Social Affair Last Night

Monessen Lodge No. 169, K. of P. had one of largest and jolliest socials of the year last evening. Representative Pythians in "Dokey" array from Brownsville to Pittsburgh met here for an evening's pleasure and were entertained in the Ruthenian hall by the Live Wire Dokey Glee Club of Ka Laab Temple, No. 212 of McKeesport, with song recitations, orchestra music and that sweet Hawaiian Trio, also a short address by Royal Vizier Young. At ten thirty they returned to Moose Temple, where Chairman Dean and his capable assistants served an excellent buffet lunch, prepared by the peerless unmatchable Pythian Sisters Social committee.

It was a regular Dokey celebration McKeesport having the only Temple in this section and having jurisdiction over this territory, is making every effort to have their next ceremonial here in Monessen. The local committee aims to have a class of one hundred. The D. A. K. K. or Dramatic Order Knights of Korasshan is the Sunshine or Play Ground of Pythianism

This ceremonial means a big thing to Monessen. If it is secured to this city it will bring about five hundred live wire Knights from all over Western Pennsylvania here for the day. Connellsville is competing with this city for the honor and local Knights are going to put forth every effort to land the big affair for this city.

Boy Was Arrested

Mike Pavla, a fourteen year old lad residing at 145 Fourth street, this city, was arrested early yesterday morning on suspicion, at Donora, and spent the remainder of the night in jail. The young lad was found standing in front of the Donora Loan office with a glass cutter in his hand and when taken to the police station $12.85 was found on his person. He admitted that he had stolen the money from a boarder at his father's home here. A local officer and the boy's fahter went to Donora yesterday and made settlement and the boy was released.

Frank Kuma, a fourteen year old boy of Donora, was also arrested yesterday on a charge of being a suspicious character and he also admitted stealing $25 from the home of a neighbor woman. He had $4.09 of the money on his person and $20 was found hidden in a chicken's nest. The money was returned and the boy allowed to go home with his parents.

Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Furick, of this city will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at the home of their son, Clarence Furick, in Carrick. Their three sons, William, Thomas Clarence and families will be present. They were married in Pittsburgh in 1870 and were residents of that city 50 years before moving to Monessen. Mr. Furick is a Civil War veteran and has been active in the work of the G. A. R. Mrs. Furick is known as "Betsy Ross" of Monessen, having made a number of beautiful flags and presenting them to churches and patriotic organizations. The last flag was given ot the local Christian church in honor of the boys in the world war.

Addressed Farmers

(By United Press)

West Jefferson, O., Oct. 2.—An old fashioned farmers' picnic at Wilson Grove, provided the setting for Senator Harding's speech today. Ten thousand farmers from central Ohio were present and heard the Republican nominee for president speak on the subject of agriculture. He stated that he proposed government aid to farmers in purchasing land, the cheaper distribution of farm products through co-operative marketing and efficient rail and motor transportation, also for protection of the American agriculture products from cheaper foreign products.

Deeds Recorded

Recent real estate transfers recorded in Greensburg include the following:

Property in Monessen. Eugenio Decesare and Lusia Decera, his wife of Monessen to John Fundy and Assunta Fundy, his wife, of Monessen for $3,300; September 13, 1920.

Property in Monessen. Alfred Bamford and Hattie J. Bamford, his wife, of Monessen, for $2,850; September 18, 1920.

Property in Monessen. Robert McKelvy and Ruth McKelvey, his wife, of Monessen, to John McKelvey of Wheeling, W. Va., for $465; August 21, 1920.

Property in Monessen. Margaret B. Hancock and Jesse Hancock, her husband, of Monessen for $4,700; September 4, 1920.

Property in Monessen. East Side Land company of Monessen, to Cary L. Schuck, of Monessen, for $16,500; September 1, 1920.

Property in Monessen. Joseph Firer and Mary Firer, his wife, of Monessen, to Stif Mihalik, of Monessen, for $4,100; September 18, 1920.

Belle Vernon Bridge in Need of Repairs

One of the big delivery trucks of the Fox Grocery company, in charge of Harry Chester, broke through the floor of the Belle Vernon bridge about 7:30 yesterday morning, while driving across on the way to Washington and Brownsville.

When the driver felt the flooring giving way under him he put on more gas, but unfortunately his engine stalled and the machine dropped down into the hole when the timbers gave way. While he was in this predicament a truck loaded with coal came up behind him and hit the stranded machine, but no material damage was done.

After working for about two hours, and with the use of jacks, the truck was freed from the wrecked floor and proceeded on its way. In the meantime traffic on the bridge was practically at a standstill.

The condition of the floor on the Belle Vernon bridge has been very dangerous for the past month, according to statements made by auto and truck drivers, and frequently main ness go through and as a consequence are held up for some time while getting out of the difficulty. Auto drivers are compelled to be very careful in driving across in order to miss the holes and weak places, which are many, and thus avoid any accident.

Some weeks ago the commissioners of Fayette and Washington counties, in a meeting held in Uniontown, awarded a contract to the Ferris Contracting Company of Pittsburgh for a new floor in the structure, but work on the contract has not yet begun at the bridge. The same company placed the new floor in the Donora bridge and according to all reports made a very satisfactory job. Just how soon the contractors will begin on the Belle Vernon bridge has not been stated but it is evident that some action should be taken at once to prevent a serious accident that might occur to any machine crossing the structure.

The Storm Has Broken Loose

ABOUT FIVE HUNDRED WOMEN HAVE PREPARED TO CAST BALLOT NOVEMBER SECOND

More than four hundred and fifty Monessen women took out tax receipts from the office of Tax Collector Woodward this week, indicating they intend to make use of the ballot at the first election at which the women of America will participate. There are probably 4,000 Monessen women who would be qualified under the law to vote if they would register and pay taxes and the 450 now prepared to exercise the franchise is sufficient indication that there are enough women here interested in matters of government to take hold and educate all who are either indifferent or have scruples about voting.

For fifty years there has been a war of education in the country to break down the prejudice that withheld the ballot from women and now that that issue has been settled, it is the duty of every woman to educate herself in matters of nation, state, county and city and get out and help solve the problems the men have been unable to solve. In addition to the number who paid the 40-cent tax there are many who hold real estate and others who pay a state tax who will be entitled to vote and this may bring the total female vote up to 500 in the town.

School taxes to the amount of approximately $200,000 was paid to Tax Collector Woodward this week and his office will be open tonight until 12 o'clock to close the business with all who desire to pay before the 5 per cent is added. This is the largest amount to be taken in at one period in the history of the town. The $5 school tax assessed against every male resident over 21 years of age brought the duplicate up considerable.

Local Fans Will Receive First Hand Results of World Series

Tuesday of next week the populace of the United States in general will lay aside all business worries for the time being and focus their attentions on the ball lot at Brooklyn N. Y., where the first of the World Series ball games will be staged with from all indications, Cleveland as their opponents. Very few of any of the local residents will be in a position to attend these ball games but despite this fact, they are not to be denied the privilege of getting first hand information "right off the bat" of the big happenings as the Daily Independent will keep an open wire connected with the press stands at the ball ground and will receive each play just as quickly after the play as it takes to transfer it over the wires of the United Press.

Each play will be posted at the office along with scores by innings of every game played during the series that will determine the champion baseball team of the world and the first report will be received here shortly after which games are to be given the public. Those unable to attend the games at the ball park will be given this information by telephone or by the bulletins in front of the office.

FOOT BALL CLASSIC TODAY

Monessen presented the appearance of a college town this afternoon with hundreds of students parading the streets wearing the colors of their school. The occasion is the opening of the foot ball season with Morgantown trying conclusions with the local High school. The visitors arrived in town early this morning and at once went into seclusion, preparing for the contest this afternoon. Ideal weather greeted the fans this morning and Coach Torrence had a force of young huskies at work on the grounds getting them into shape for the contest which undoubtedly will attract several thousand people. Cheer leaders were on hand early this afternoon and the local students gave vent to their feelings with songs and specialties.

Insane Man Is Charged With Arson

Frank Karnan, the alleged firebug of Donora, who, it is claimed, was responsible for the numerous incendiary fires in Donora and Webster this week, was brought to this city last night by Constable Woolsey and placed in jail. He will be charged with arson on information of the State Fire Marshall and will be given a preliminary hearing this evening before Justice of the Peace J. B. White. Although denying the fires in Donora, he admitted the blaze discovered the following morning at the Webster garage and on this account the information was brought in Westmoreland county.

Karnan was discovered crawling from beneath the garage shortly after the fire was noticed and when apprehended he admitted setting the place on fire, stating that the devil told him to do it. He claimed he was crazy and requested that he be sent to an asylum. Before being brought to this city he was taken to the scenes of the various fires in Donora but denied all knowledge of them. Walter Greenwood, Jack Hardesy and Chief of Police Smedley will be among the witnesses appearing before the local Justice this evening.

Admitted to Bail

Major James Harkins, the county coroner, called a jury of six men to his office, at the court house yesterday morning and investigated the deaths of two men. The case of the most interest was the investigation of the circumstances in the death of Mike Bananec, of Webster, who was struck by an axe in the hands of George Enoko, the evening of September 25, from which blow the man died in the Monongahela hospital a few hours later.

Stif Koriki was present at the hearing and stated that the evening of the murder, Mike Bananec came to the home of George Enoko and started trouble. He stated, too, that he came with a revolver in his hand and threatened to shoot. George called to Stif to aid him he instantly came and grabbed the revolver in the hand of Babanec. The hammer snapped and caught Stif's right thumb and cut it. He stated that if his thumb had not been thrust under the hammer, Enoko would have been shot, as Mike had the weapon drawn on him. The jury found that the dead man came to his death by being struck on his head by Enoko and recommended that bail be admitted in the case.

Anti-Bolshevik Wave

(By United Press)

London, Oct. 2.—An anti-Bolshevik wave is sweeping over Russia and consternation is reigning in Moscow, according to dispatches received from Helsingfors today.

The majority of factory workers in Petrograd were reported to be on strike, ostensibly because of the food shortage, but with the real object of overthrowing the Red regime.

Soviet troops on the western front here were said to have held mass meetings, demanding immediate peace. It was recalled that just such demonstrations immediately preceded the overthrow of the Kerensky regime.

W. Murray Crane Dead

(By United Press)

Dalton, Mass., Oct. 2.—W. Murray Crane, one of the leaders of the Republican party and a former United States Senator, died at his home here today.

Crane had been in poor health for several months and had to conserve his strength when he attended the Republican convention in Chicago last June. He had been confined to his home here several weeks.

Crane was born here April 28, 1853. He was educated in the public schools but later received honorary degrees from Williams College, and Harvard University. He married Mary Benner, of Astoria, N. Y., in 1880. She died in 1884.

The first public office he held was that of lieutenant governor of Massachusetts, to which he was elected in 1897. He was governor for one term, from 1900 to 1902. In January, 1905, he was elected United States senator to fill the unexpired terms of George F. Hoar, who had died. He was re-elected for the term 1907-13. He was a member of the Republican national committee from 1892 to 1900, and since 1904. He was a delegate-at-large to the national conventions in 1892, 1896, 1904, 1908, 1912 and 1920.

Monthly Meeting

The C. W. B. M of the Christian church held their monthly meeting last night at the home of Mrs. W. O. Beery on McKee avenue. Twenty-five members being present. The C. W. B. M. is one of the leading societies of the church. The society in general is doing a great work, not only in our own country, but also among the heathen in foreign countries. Every month a magazine is published, and the work that is being done by every missionary supported by this society, is brought to them in this magazine. A short program is arranged for each meeting, after which a light lunch is served. The program last evening was given as follows: Piano solo, Miss Lillian Beery; reading, Virginia Isenberg; paper, Rev. Davis; reading Miss Mowll.

Investigations of Baseball Continue

(By United Press)

New York, Oct. 2.—District Attorney Lewis of Kings county, announced today he had telegraphed state's attorney Hoyne, of Chicago, asking him to forward here immediately the evidence on which he based his assertion that six ball games this season has been "fixed" and that a gambling clique had laid the groundwork for "fixing" the 1920 world series.

Hoyne was quoted in newspapers here today as having made that charge just after returning to Chicago from New York. Lewis is at present investigating reports that a gambling clique plotted to corrupt the Brooklyn club in the 1920 series and so far, he said today, he has been unable to find any evidence to support such an allegation.

Hoyne, in his published statement, said he had evidence of the throwing of this year's major league games and that he had information that the clique had laid the ground work for fixing the 1920 world series, drawing a distinction between "evidence" and "information."

Lewis today questioned more members of the Brooklyn Club. Among the first to call at his office in Brooklyn were Konetchy, Kilduff, Ellis, Millies and Griffith. All said they never had been approached by gamblers.

It was reported that Manager Wilbert Robinson had received several anonymous letters, in which it was alleged that various members of his club had been approached.

REPUBLICAN IN POLITICS

MEXICO'S GREAT NEED

So far as President Obregon of Mexico extends assurances that full protection will be accorded to Americans and their property in his country, our people may view more hopefully the course of relations between the United States government and the Mexican neighbor. It is also gratifying to investors that Mexico's incoming administration declares in favor of fair dealing with foreign capital for the development of that country's natural riches. These friendly indications forecast a better era than that known in preceding years, and adherence to such amicable policy is bound to benefit our sister republic.

The main consideration bearing on the future relations with the United States and the welfare of Mexico herself is what will be done to better the internal conditions of that country. The new administration has it in its power to correct the things which have been chronic trouble breeders, to remedy abuses and to abolish oppression, so there will no longer be the rebellious feeling enlisting in uprisings fomented by scheming bandits to enrich themselves.

The peon is still Mexico's unsolved problem. The impression is that, well treated, he is a faithful worker and satisfied. The trouble, it appears, is that great landholders of Mexico deny the peon the most elementary rights. This gives ground for the belief that sound and peaceful government in Mexico must establish a system of land settlement in small holdings.

A GERMAN DISAPPOINTMENT

The discouraging outlook for German trade is indicated in the announced failure of the Leipzig fair. For 850 years fairs have been held in that Saxon city. Buyers were drawn from far and near. In recent times the business done was regarded as an accurate barometer of German trade conditions. For the fair just held much was hoped as an indication of the revival of German trade after the war. While the exhibits were good and buyers were present from all parts of the world, few orders were booked. Americans present declined to buy for fear prejudice would prevent sale of the goods. Others, not deterred by the same reason, did not place orders because of the unsettled conditions the world over. It is stated that the Germans are greatly disappointed at the result and correspondingly despondent.

While commerce is carried on for profit and is not governed by sentiment to a great extent, it is at the same time true that, other things being equal, one prefers to deal with friends rather than with recent enemies. The entente nations and their associations with of necessity carry on some trade with Germany. They will not be averse to buy there when it is advantageous to do so, but they will not buy as a favor.

Had there been a return to pre-war conditions at the Leipzig fair it would have indicated an astonishing forgetfulness of the events of the last half dozen years. Yet the Germans seem to have expected the world to accept their goods on the old basis, regardless of the bitterness not yet allayed and in the face of other untoward conditions.

The Germans hoped to get off more easily than is the intention of the world. They are not through paying for the war.

BOY! PAGE MR. SOLOMON

Solomon shuffled off betimes. His reputation for wisdom is secure. In truth, he did nothing wiser than taking his departure before positively baffling problems were invented.

Had he stuck around until now we may be sure that there would be no unanimity of confidence in his judgment. We may have faith that he could solve the high cost puzzle, but what would he do about the farm which an Ohio man willed "as a permanent home for his most needy descendants?" The heirs cannot decide who is entitled to it and it may be assumed that the courts may be unable to do so.

How would you compare necessity? That is fundamental to the award that must be made in this case.

Suppose there were two claimants to the "permanent home," one possessing $15,000 and no occupation and the other having a $2,000-a-year job, but no accumulation of capital. Neither of them might want the farm, but if both did which would you conclude was justly entitled to it under the terms of the will?

If Solomon, in all his wisdom, could have solved that commodity could have solved the problem he had more of that commodity than anyone has yet credited him with.

The United States is not unlike Ireland--the country should be made safer for its policemen.

It is a safe guess that cupid has nothing to do with the cupidity that is so prevalent.

When a man takes an unusual interest in a married woman she is usually not his wife.

Add benefits of suffrage: Candy is taking the place of campaign cigars.

Will future historians refer to the present period as the "silk shirt era?"

It will be a lucky man this winter who finds himself between two fires.

Watch the campaign warm up as the weather gets cool.

Interesting Case

Monessen and surrounding towns are interested in the famous Greensburg school case, papers and arguments of which were handed to the Supreme Court sitting in Pittsburgh yesterday and the decision of the highest juricial body in the state will be awaited with interest.

The case taken up to the higher court for final settlement is the appeal from the finding of Judge A. D. McConnell in the case of "S. T Lopes at al vs the Greensburg school district."

This case grew out of the attempt of the Greensburg school board several years ago to exclude all new non-resident applicants from from the Greensburg High school. Messrs S. T. Lopes, Frank Hayden and William Pringle, Sr., representing Hempfield township, Southwest and South Greensburg, respectively secured an injunction against the Greensburg school board which prevented them from carrying into effect the exclusion of non-resident pupils. Much testimony was taken and Judge McConnell, in a lengthy opinion, decided the case against the Greensburg school board.

This case has been in the courts several times previously, but a compromise was always affected, and it was never carried through for final adjudication. It grows out of the terms under which the old Westmoreland academy trustees deeded their property to the Greensburg school district 60 years ago. Only within the last twenty years have high schools sprung into real prominence and during the last dozen years the enrollment of non-resident pupils has been very heavy and increasing steadily in the Greensburg high school.

Are Found Guilty

Joseph Lowenthal, a representative of the Pelican Mutual Life Insurance company of Philadelphia, who was arrested in Brownsville at the Girard House on the 27th of last June, and returned to Clearfield county, to stand trial on the charge of defrauding with worthless insurance policies, was found guilty and sentenced to return the money received from holders of the worthless policies. At the same time the president of the company, Joseph A. Conray, was also found guilty of fraud.

At the time Lowenthal was arrested in Brownsville five other men were taken in custody, and all gave bail to appear at the September term of Fayette county court, but it is understood that the cases have been held over until the December term, when they will be arraigned, charged with selling hundreds of worthless policies to people in the Brownsville district.

The notoriety given the Pelican company in Clearfield county in the arrest of their representatives in this district, has resulted it is said in a change of name to the Charter Mutual Benefit Association of Philadelphia.

The American Steel and Wire company is building two large frame boarding shanties just below Donora in order to take care of housing requirements for laboring men employed in and about the mills there. Two similiar houses were built at West Columbia, and these are supplemented by a number of tents in order to provide places for men, and now it is found necessary to add other similiar structures at the other end of the town. The new buildings will accomodate a large number of men.

Dublin, Oct. 2.—The town of Tubbercurry suffered from reprisals again last night, following the shooting of a policeman. Three houses and two creameries were destroyed and many other buildings damaged by fire. The wreckers used gasoline bombs.

Wisdom in Loading Up Work.

Because other folks do not organize their work they get tired and quit. Or it may be they lose their nerve because they do not see the way out. You have come into your powers so gradually that it seems second nature to you. Accordingly you hustle along with keen satisfaction while the other fellow worries or even gives up. There's nothing like loading up when you do it wisely. Besides adding to your own strength you are doing something that benefits your fellow men. You profit on two scores. The satisfaction of knowing you are doing your full share and the praise men will give when they realize what you are contributing toward the world's welfare. The weakling can gain strength and the strong man become a benefactor when they use them hands in loading up. Begin today to rise into your heritage. Load up.

Ingersoll Quoted Scripture.

There has been no modern controversialist who, in the audacious use of scripture, could surpass the once celebrated Colonel Ingersoll, most influential of agnostic lecturers in America in his day. His anti-theological enterprises did not exhaust his energies; Ingersoll was a powerful champion of sound currency during the epoch of inflated paper money after the Civil war. In a speech on this exciting subject he once delivered himself to the following effect: "I hope to see the day when every greenback in the United States will be able to rise up on its edge and say 'I know that my redeemer liveth'" in "The Virtuous Thief," at Star on Monday.

NATURE PROVIDES THE INGREDIENTS

Argo-Phosphate, the New Herbal Remedy, Now Endorsed by Local People.

If the digestive organs are not properly performing the work which nature has assigned to them, then nutrition, which is absolutely essential to the recovery of other diseased parts, will be lacking and there can be no permanent relief. When bodily nutrition is normal, the stomach digests the food, the blood absorbs and carries the nourishment to the different parts of the body, causing the various organs to properly perform their functions

Nature has provided a remedy in the ingredients of Argo-Phosphate, the new herbal stomach remedy, which is being introduced here. It is purely vegetable and its vitalizing, corrective and reconstructive qualities are so pronounced that beneficial results are noticed from the first day. That this is true, is only necessary to listen to the statements made daily by local people who have given Argo-Phosphate a fair trial and have been benefitted thereby.

It is dispensed by G. R. Eddy. 1t

BUICK

Emblem of Satisfaction

TRUE to the Buick tradition of twenty years, the one feature Buick engineers have particularly sought to develop in the new Nineteen Twenty One Buick Series is high utility value.

You will find, in fact, when you investigate these new models, that Buick capacity for hard, fast, sure transportation is even greater than ever before. The high-powered, sure-working Buick Valve-in-Head Motor is a feature of each of the new models.

Added to their great service value are a beauty of contour and appointment and a comfort of movement and seating arrangement that appeal to the most particular

Buick primarily, however, is a car of action. Built for business—built to stand up—is a well known Buick feature. Business men will find the new five passenger touring car a happy selection.

Back of it, reinforcing its high serviceability, insuring the uninterrupted use of your investment is Authorized Buick Service rendered by a nation-wide organization.

The Rivals

By SAIDEE E. BALCOM

(©, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

When Abel Dayton, manufacturer, was influenced by his physician to spend a year at a health resort, he encouraged his employees to faithful service by distributing a very liberal bonus. He rather favored Pearce Mantell and Rodney Harper, distant relatives. It fairly took Mantell off his feet to have five hundred dollars in a lump. It set him dreaming. As to Harper, he felt that the nest egg of a fortune had come to him.

Pearce Mantell signalized his good fortune by equipping himself for a splurge. He had always longed to have an automobile and a sleek, smart auto salesman found no difficulty in prevailing upon Mantell to pay two hundred dollars down on a bright and shining car. Mantell anticipated his usual two weeks' vacation, indifferent to the odd hundreds in monthly installments that he would have to pay later on.

There was a road between Acton and the city where for over half a mile a slanting descent followed a tortuous course of sharp curves, with high bluffs at either side. Here one afternoon there were strung along as many as twenty cars. The cause of the stoppage could not be ascertained, as the curves shut out all view ahead.

Finally a motorist ventured to edge along the side of the road, to come upon Mantell, his machine at a standstill and he coolly wiping the dust from his auto. He had arranged to take Miriam Dale to the city to attend to some shopping, and wanted to have the auto look its very best to dazzle the senses of the prettiest girl in Acton.

Mantell chuckled serenely as he escaped the jeers and chidings of the automobilists he had kept in waiting and sped on to call for Miriam. That charming marvel of femininity he had been courting once a week for several months. Rodney Harper had done the same. Mantell felt very sanguine and superior with his new acquisition, the automobile. Then, too, he fancied himself generally a good deal of a "sport," while Harper was only a plodder. Mantell was employed in the offices of the Dayton establishment. Harper's duties were those of a buyer. His province was to purchase what supplies the factory required. Usually they were ordered per freight or express from various manufacturing centers, but when it was some light stuff, hurriedly needed, Tim Ruggles an old employee, drove to the city in an ancient canopied wagon and gathered up what was required.

Upon the day when Mantell was aiming to impress pretty Miriam with a due sense of his importance, it chanced that some articles were very much needed for the next day's work at the factory. Tim was home ill, and Harper volunteered to act as his substitute. He slipped on old Tim's overall suit and was five miles on his way, when an imperious honk! honk! was followed by an automobile whizzing by him. It threw up a cloud of dust, but not so dense that it hid from Harper's eyes a smiling face and a genially waved hand. Miriam, seated beside Mantell, pleased and happy, was never forgetful of courtesy.

Mantell left Miriam at a store, arranging to call for her at five o'clock. He then drove up to the curb awaiting her appearance. She did not come, for he had mistaken another mercantile establishment for the point of meeting. When he ascertained his blunder he hastened to the right store to find it closed for the day. He was an easily rattled youth, drove about wildly, turned a corner in too much of a hurry, ran into another machine, wrecking it, and was haled up to the police station for reckless driving.

Poor Miriam was distressed when she had waited an hour beyond the appointed time and no Mantell appeared. Dusk was coming on and rain threatened. Finally she took the trolley line, which ran within five miles of Acton, burdened with bundles and timorously staring down the dark and lonely road homeward bound, a daunted maid as to courage, and angry at her cavalier's unaccountable desertion. Her feet were encased with mud, her clothing and bundles sopping wet. A vehicle came up behind her.

"Why, Miriam!" spoke the heartsome, welcoming voice of Rodney Harper. "Alone! Here! Whatever has happened to Mantell?" and Miriam nestled close to Rodney under the canopy of the front seat, a thankful, relieved mortal, and forgot all her troubles.

"I've got to stop a minute at the old Beardsley cottage," spoke Rodney, as they entered the town. "It's vacant, you know, and I have bought it and am going to fix it up. By leaving some paint and hardware here now it will save another journey tomorrow.

"You won't live there all alone, will you, Rodney?" propounded artless Miriam.

She unconsciously invited an explanation, urged on by a realization on the part of Rodney of her bewitching prettiness.

"Oh, no, Miriam," he responded—"not until I find a wife to keep it in order for me, and, Miriam, will you come and be that to me if I ask you?"

Amid gloom, darkness, rain, the spontaneous proposal came, but as Miriam clung to his arm and hung her head, Rodney Harper found all the world was aglow with tenderness and sunshine!

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is a Short Letter, but it Brings a Message of Importance to every Woman.

Woodford, Vt.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before my child was born and it did wonderful work for me. My baby weighed eight and one-half pounds when born and I did not suffer many pains. You can publish this letter if you wish for I would not be without your medicine before child birth."—Mrs. JOHN LIARDI, Woodford, Vt.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative power of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. "1900 Cataract" Washer

Saves Time and Money and Really Washes Clothes

The "1900" Cataract Washer is so simple in design and construction that no knowledge of machinery or electricity is necessary to produce work of the finest quality.

Considering laundress costs you actually save enough in one year to more than pay for the machine.

Our liberal offer of monthly payments will make you the owner of this wonderful Electric Washing Machine and Wringer.

We also offer free trial and demonstrations.
